Presented by IMMA (Irish Museum of Modern Art), Earth Rising is a free festival that brings people together through art, ideas, and collective action to help us feel more connected, make sense of a changing world, and imagine better ways to live, together.

Across three vibrant days (12-14 September), Earth Rising 2025 offers over 50 free events, from radical talks and joyful workshops to restorative installations and grassroots activations. It's a space to explore, reflect, and re-energise, surrounded by a community of artists, thinkers, makers, and dreamers.

Come join us at IMMA this September – everyone is welcome. Be part of something hopeful, creative, and connected.
